THE

Surveyan

farewell to you and the youth I have spent with you

brief were my days among you it was but yesterday we met in a dream

ay, I knew your joy and your pain . . .

and your dreams were my dreams . . .

. . . to my silence came the laughter and longing of your youths . . .

and I of your longings have built a tower in the sky . . .

*in the stillness . . .
I have walked in your streets and you have sung to me*

I mirrored the summits in you . . .

and the bending slopes of your thoughts and your desires . . .

that are waves from a sealed memory that keeps records of our yesterdays

. . . for when the colour is forgotten and the vessel is no more

. . . the taste of wine is remembered.

because . . .

*less than a promise have I given,
and yet more generous have you been to me.
you have given me my deeper thirsting after life.
surely there is no greater gift to a man than that which turns all his aims into parching lips and all life into a fountain.*

shall you indeed sing.
And when you have reached the mountain top,
then shall you begin to climb.
And when the earth shall claim your limbs,
then shall you truly dance.*

ACADEMICS

Morris Harvey College has always taken pride in the quality and wide variety of cultural programs offered. These programs range from physical education exhibitions to classical music concerts. This year, after a series of special freshman orientation programs, assemblies were held nearly every week in various fields.

Benjamin Franklin IV kept the audience wrapped in amazement and pleasure with his mindreading and other magical abilities, while a lecture by Dr. Arthur G. Coons on academic excellence proved enlightening to both faculty and students. The physical education department presented an informative but humorous show on the perfection of Judo. Also humorous were the Blackfriars' productions. "The Dear Departed" and "A Midsummer Night's Dream" were gay and light, with a more serious note being struck during the performance of "The Glass Menagerie."

Under the direction of Mr. Ewing, the Morris Harvey Philharmonic Choir provided a musical change of pace, as did the College Band directed by Mr. Colbert. The annual Christmas party in the A. V. Cox Reception Hall was one of the best in recent years. Santa was thinner, but still jovial, and his helpers had treats for everyone. President Buckalew's Christmas message and the string ensemble's selections highlighted the warmth of the season's spirit.

Selections from "My Fair Lady" were performed by the talented players of the Charleston Light Opera Guild. The Charleston Ballet Company, under the leadership of Andre Van Damme, presented a program of imaginative professional dance. In addition, the Humanities Department investigated the various facets of French culture in a series of assemblies, including the literary, musical and philosophical aspects.

Everyone enjoyed the student fashion and variety shows. The first fashion show, sponsored by the Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority, and the second, sponsored by GLAMOUR magazine and the COMET, proved to be great successes. The variety shows were highlighted by folk singing groups, dramatic reading and modern dancing. The Student Government Association sponsored several programs, including progress reports and awards assemblies.

Famous author and scientist Dr. Donald W. Cox, in his lecture on "Scientists Rise to Power," explained the technical knowledge of the space scientist to faculty, students and interested members of the community. Dr. Henry Bugbee, Jr., a Danforth Visiting Lecturer, delved into an interesting discussion on philosophic thought and faith.

College Events Offer

Keuchiro Saito, a noted Japanese artist, exhibited his Shuboku paintings in the A. W. Cox Reception Hall.

Sue Higgins flips Joe Fleck in an informative show on the perfection of Judo presented by the Physical Education department.

Dave Baber entertained at the Best Dressed Coed assembly by singing a selection of jazz and mood music.

Variety of Programs

Dr. Arthur G. Coons enlightened faculty and students in his lecture on academic excellence.

Art works by both students and faculty were on exhibition in the A. W. Cox Reception Hall periodically during the year. Also outside exhibitions were brought in featuring one presented by the new American Federation of Art on architecture. A noted Japanese artist, Keuchiro Saito, exhibited his Shuboku paintings and gave a most interesting demonstration to a large audience.

Another cultural program at the College was the presentation of varied musical groups by the Charleston Chamber Music Society. Concerts ranged from the world-renowned Vienna Boys Choir to the Marlboro Trio. Michel Block, the celebrated young Belgian pianist, was featured as soloist with the Monte Carlo National Orchestra.

In addition, the College continued with its traditional movie, religious and convocation programs.

Morris Harvey Expands

The language laboratory provides audio facilities in the new wing of Riggleman Hall

Student Union goes up!

During 1965-66 a $2,500,000 building program was undertaken on the college campus, including the expansion of the women's residence halls, the building of a new men's residence hall, the completion of the athletic field and the construction of the long-awaited student union. To honor those dedicated to the academic excellence of Morris Harvey, the Board of Trustees named four campus facilities: the Wehrle B. Geary Student Union, the Ashby C. Blackwell Athletic Field, the A. W. Cox Men's Residence Hall, and the Leonard Riggleman Main Hall.

Along with these physical expansions and additions have come improvements in the academic field. Due to the increasing student body, additional faculty members have been recruited in many divisions; a number of members who have taken leaves of absence to continue or complete their graduate work have returned to teach.

Informal discussions in faculty homes add to the small college atmosphere here.

Academically, Physically

Improvements also occurred in the curriculum. The English department changed the freshman text to give the class of '70 a better background in literature. New courses such as the one in social work are being introduced; freshman biology students now take a one-hour laboratory in addition to their lecture hours. Improvements in modern languages include a new major in Spanish and a language laboratory in the new wing.

Expansion in the business education field has enabled the college's business majors to enter teaching. Many professors conduct their four hundred courses on the graduate level in order to prepare more students for continuing their higher education. Seminar courses in history and political science are scheduled every year so that more students may partake in these programs. Graduating seniors take comprehensive examinations in order to evaluate their four year studies.

Sister Mary Joyce Rosano studies in a nursing laboratory.

Construction began this year on two new residence halls.

Morris Harvey's newest department, Nursing, will graduate the first class finishing its two year training program this year. The Charleston community and area hospitals have enthusiastically joined in financial support of the program. With the completion of the new wing in Riggelman Hall, the nursing students have acquired specialized classroom space.

Small colleges have as one of their assets closer student-faculty relationships. This year many faculty members opened their homes to students for informal discussions on Campus life, class seminars and social events. President and Mrs. Buckalew also entertained several groups for buffets at the President's residence.

Morris Harvey is expanding in all directions in order to give more students a chance to obtain a liberal arts college education. Each year an increasing number of graduates continue their studies toward advanced degrees.

Generation Lost

by Michael Lanzilotta

Generation lost, filled with hate,
torment and indifference,
Where are you going?
Are you blinded by what you see?

Do not isolate yourself!

Seek not the truth in your state
of immature mutability,
For the very essence of your findings will falter on a pedestal of inconsistence.

Emerge from your self-made casket
of monotonous protection!

Live, accept life as it evolves within your scope of existence.
Question that which may stifle
your comprehension,
Even if it be the Supreme Power
of life itself.

Keep proper account of the answers
you may formulate.

When you are wrinkled with age,
recall the many answers you sought through question.

Linger with them in silence,

Cast
out
the weak!

Build
the strong.

Place these pieces of life together,
and now Generation lost,
you may have found yourself.

Express Cultural Creativity

Mr. Gibson and his "little people."

Sculpture and pottery on display during the faculty art exhibit.

Selections by Chris Strong

I'll fight it with all my strength,
I'll push, I'll hide, I'll leave—
I'll be so strong, it won't happen,
For I've been through it before,
and my sing, I need it not again.

No one will make me serious when I want to laugh,

No one will make me happy when I want to be sad—

I need no challenge, for that's only worth infatuation.

I need nothing from it,
For I won't receive Love, only pain.

I'm happy as I am, I'm happy as I will,
I'll stay this way for now,
And never turn my head into the wind.

I want my green leaves, green—
Brown leaves only crumple.

I want my leaves so fresh,
that I'll be one steep ahead of the Oak Tree.

Why are you overly-familiar,
dense companion with me always,
the looking glass reflects your face—a face which is hard to see without the brightest light to shine upon it.

The purpose of Pi Gamma Mu is to improve scholarship in the social studies; to inspire social service to humanity; to engender sympathy toward others with different opinions; and to supplement and to support, but not to supplant, existing social science organizations by promoting sociability and attendance at meetings.

The Delta Chapter of Morris Harvey College was installed in April of 1963 and is now under the supervision of Mr. John Young. Highlights of the year include a fall and spring initiation and banquet with an outstanding speaker in the field of history or social science.

Pi Kappa Delta

West Virginia Gamma chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, national forensic society, was founded on May 13, 1956. The chapter strives to stimulate progress in and further the interests of intercollegiate speech activities. It also attempts to provide functional leadership training for life, and at the same time encourage a spirit of fellowship, brotherly cooperation and incentive for achievement.

Last fall the chapter co-sponsored the annual Morris Harvey College Debate Tournament, with several other colleges and universities from many states attending. An annual spring banquet is also held for its members.

The Interfraternity Council of Morris Harvey College fosters a spirit of mutual helpfulness among the Greek letter organizations. It promotes friendly relations, leadership, scholarship, and loyalty. The I.F.C. also helps to acquaint men with the advantages of entering into fraternal brotherhood.

The council sets up rules yearly for the Spring and Fall rush. It sponsors track and field events, hayrides, dances and picnics. The members are also active in the community, helping with various fund drives and doing volunteer work at the Union Mission Children's Home.

Panhellenic Council

The Panhellenic Council of Morris Harvey College was established to maintain friendly fraternity life and interfraternity relationships; to cooperate with college authorities in their effort to maintain high social and scholastic standards; and to be a forum for the discussion of questions of interest to the college and the fraternity world.

Panhellenic helps acquaint the freshman women with the different sororities on campus, pointing out the advantages of joining a Greek letter organization. This year Panhellenic has sponsored a mix, a tea for both the fall and spring rushees, and a council meeting for all rushees.

Alpha Sigma Phi

The Gamma Mu chapter came to Morris Harvey's campus in 1960. It was formerly the Sigma Delta Phi local fraternity.

The purposes of the fraternity are to foster education, maintain charity, to encourage high scholarship, to assist in building character and to promote college loyalty. The brothers live up to these purposes by participating in all phases of college life. These include scholastic improvement, community services and high moral standards.

Community relations are of a vital significance in college existence. Gamma Mu chapter has received national recognition for its social service program. Each year the brothers take pride in offering tutorial service, a Christmas party and personal attention to the orphans at the Union Mission. The brothers also donate the highest percentage of blood to the Red Cross.

Scholastic achievement and high moral standards are a prerequisite of all men wishing to join. To stimulate incentive for high scholarship, the chapter offers trophies to those individuals who improve the most over the year.

The elaborate social program of Alpha Sigma Phi includes the Welcome Back Dance, the traditional Black and White formal, the Christmas Party, at which the Alpha Sigma Phi Sweetheart is announced, the Spring Smoker, the Peppermint Party and the Sweetheart Weekend in May.

Brothers contribute to Goodwill Industries as one of their community services.

The Kappa Zeta chapter of Theta Xi was founded on Morris Harvey's campus in April, 1947. Originally it was Kappa Sigma Kappa national fraternity. The Kappa Zeta chapter of Theta Xi has the distinction of being the newest national fraternity on campus and having the longest heritage of any other at Morris Harvey.

Theta Xi believes in promoting fellowship and guidance leading to wholesome mental, verbal, physical, and spiritual growth and understanding. The members promote high scholarship and high moral validity within its brotherhood. Not only are the brothers active in organizations such as S.G.A., Choir, Band, Blackfriars, Alpha Psi Omega, Pi Kappa Delta, Debate Club, Circle K, and the Harveyan and Comet staffs, but also in volunteer work throughout the community including an Easter Egg hunt for the orphans at the Union Mission and Action for Appalachian Youth. The fraternity through united brotherhood, received the Scholarship Trophy and the May Day Sing Trophy.

This year, the social program consisted of the Theta Xi A 'Go 'Go Dance, the Christmas Candlelight Dinner Dance, at which the Theta Xi Sweetheart was presented, the Spring Smoker, the Theta Xi Spring Weekend, the traditional 6294 Banquet and other private parties.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

Tau Kappa Epsilon is one of the largest fraternities with 204 active chapters. The first TKE chapter was organized in 1899. Theta Omega Chapter was formerly Phi Sigma Phi, the oldest local fraternity continually in existence since its inception on the Morris Harvey campus in 1929.

The purpose of this organization was set down in its Declaration of Principles, "We maintain that exclusiveness is the direct antithesis of true fraternity . . .". The building of character is one of the major goals of Tau Kappa Epsilon. Each TKE is encouraged to participate in some extracurricular activity in order to benefit his college, his fraternity and himself.

Pledges are selected ". . . not for wealth, rank or honor, but for personal worth and character." Tau Kappa Epsilon was one of the first national fraternities not to restrict membership on the grounds of race, religion, or national origin. This year the social calendar consisted of the Playboy Dance, Turkey Hop, Christmas formal, Mountaineer Blast, Bunny Hop, Shipwreck Ball, Spring Smoker, Formal Spring Weekend and Community projects at the Charleston General Hospital and YMCA.

TKES foster good community-relations by helping out at Charleston General Hospital.

Delta Zeta

Meta Tau chapter of Delta Zeta sorority was installed on Morris Harvey's campus in May, 1962. It was formed out of Alpha Mu and Phi Lambda Tau local sororities.

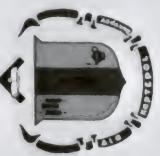

The sisters of Delta Zeta promote scholarship, friendship, loyalty and citizenship through their close relations. The most important principle of DZ is the stress placed on individual freedom and creativity. The sorority also prepares young women for professional careers.

Their activity calendar consists of the Christmas Dance, Spring Dance, Spring Rush party, their traditional Spring Weekend, bake sales and slumber parties. Extracurricular campus activities play a significant part in the high standards that Delta Zeta maintains. The sisters are active in numerous organizations which include Pi Kappa Delta, Alpha Psi Omega, debate club, Blackfriars, Chi Beta Phi, and Political Science Club. Many sisters are honored by being selected to "Who's Who."

The Student Government has four distinct duties: to act as a sounding board for student opinion; to be responsible for campus leadership by sponsoring school projects of a civic, social, intellectual, and spiritual nature; to represent the students officially at the request of the College administration, by appointing student representatives to college committees and by recommending students for awards; and to represent the students officially at functions sponsored by or with other colleges and the community.

Various activities are sponsored by the S.G.A., such as the Freshman Orientation Program, special freshman awards, the annual tug-of-war between the freshmen and the upper-classmen, the Kangaroo Court, publishing the Student Handbook and Student Directory, and the Student Liberty Drive. Officers of the S.G.A. are elected each year by the student body.

Freshman Orientation

Freshman Orientation, sponsored by the Student Government Association, is an important part of the college program. It acquaints the freshmen with the upperclassmen, traditions and history of Morris Harvey.

This year, each freshman was required to wear the college beanie, recite upon request the history of the school and the names of specific administrators, and sing the Alma Mater. Failure to complete the former tasks brought the guilty to "Kangaroo Kourt," where penalties of a constructive nature were administered. In addition, each freshman was under the direction and guidance of an upperclassman student counselor.

Activities for the freshmen consisted of the traditional welcome mixes, unique assembly programs, "Kangaroo Kourt" and the annual freshman picnic.

Art Guild

The Art Guild provides an opportunity to do creative work informally as a recreational resource, or as an addition to a more serious interest, and stimulates the discussion of contemporary art. The club also promotes interest in art on the campus by helping to sponsor art exhibitions and print sales.

Last fall, a well known Japanese artist, Keuchiro Saito, exhibited and demonstrated his Sheboku (ink paint) works at Morris Harvey.

Professional Business Club

The major purpose of the Professional Business Club is to give students a view of the techniques and obligations a businessman must know in order to succeed in the working world.

A newly organized group for the benefit of students majoring in the field of business administration, economics, and secretarial science, the club gives members an opportunity to meet outstanding business people in the community.

Organized on campus in 1959, the club has established a medical college catalog library and has visited local hospitals for first hand observation of practices and techniques.

Under the direction of Miss Virginia Williams and Mrs. Barbara Yeager, the club has grown since its organization in the spring of 1964. The L'Aiglon, an annual publication of student art and writing, is supported by the literary Club as well as book reviews in the school newspaper. Performing as a concert group, the choir appears at various college functions and presents programs for local schools. Highlights of the year are the presentation of Handel's Messiah and the annual spring choir tour.

The spring concert tour of the College Philharmonic Choir was both educational and recreational. The choir visited Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and many other places, receiving in each city a warm welcome and an abundance of sights and experiences.

The band attempts to bring increased artistry, understanding, dignity, and respect to music as an art and a profession.

The college band program consists of a concert band, open to all students who qualify, and a stage band known as the Harveyans which performs at basketball games, dances, and various other types of entertainment. Members of the stage band are chosen by audition from members of the concert band.

Debate Club

One of the first organizations to appear on the Morris Harvey College campus at Barboursville was the Debating Society. As the campus was moved, the society followed and finally grew into the Debate Club.

Creating interest in the art of debating through intercollegiate debates is the purpose of the Debate Club. It provides students with a greater respect and appreciation for the spoken word in order to make the student a more effective and articulate member of society.

Besides participation in the annual Morris Harvey Debate Tournament, the club takes trips to various debate tournaments throughout the northeastern and southeastern sections of the country. Membership is open to all students interested in forensics. Advising the group is Miss Roselyn Freedman.

Music Educators' National Conference

The M.E.N.C., recognized as the "voice of music education," was organized on the Morris Harvey campus in 1952. Under the sponsorship of Mr. John Boland, the M.E.N.C. strives: to deepen the bonds of friendship and understanding between those seeking to become professional musicians; to broaden the outlook in the world of music activity; to increase interest and knowledge in the branches of music education; and to aid in the preparation of professional musicians.

The Collegiate Council for the United Nations is the college affiliate of the United Nations Association of the U. S. It is a national student organization which strives to build informal and intelligent support for the U.N. by stimulating on the campus and in the community greater interest in international affairs.

Included among the highlights of this organization's program are model United Nations meetings, UNICEF Greeting Card sales, campus forums on world affairs, and participation in the FAO's Freedom from Hunger Campaign.

Morris Harvey College has attended a Model United Nations at Duke University and the University of North Carolina for the past three years and has had representatives at the Student Leadership Institute held every June in New York.

A campus dramatic group, Blackfriars, is open to all interested students. Its primary aims and purposes are the direction and production of dramatic works.

The Blackfriars provide students an opportunity to participate in an on-campus activity and at the same time act as a community service by providing entertaining productions. This year, the group presented two major plays, Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and Tennessee Williams' "The Glass Menagerie," under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Gray, faculty advisor.

Circle K, sponsored by the Charleston Kiwanis Club, received its charter from Circle K International in 1959. Purposes of the club are to emphasize the advantages of the American way of life, to provide an opportunity for leadership training in service, and to serve the campus and the community.

Among the services performed by the Circle K are ushering at assemblies, working with the Union Mission and Sunrise, and selling yearbook covers. Last fall, the Circle K co-sponsored a "Battle of the Bands" in the MHC gymnasium.

International Relations Club

The International Relations Club is one of Morris Harvey's newest clubs. It was established last fall by a group of concerned students, under the direction of Mr. Tabbara.

Objectives of the club are to establish better relations among foreign and American students; to increase the knowledge of what is going on in the free world and to present the various political and social institutions of other countries.

The emblem, designed by Ahmad Shaban of Lebanon, symbolizes these motives. A joining of the East and West is suggested by two hands with an arrow pointing to each; a broken sword represents an end to the arms race; a white dove carrying the globe and the olive branches typify a contented and tranquil world.

Chi Rho Fellowship

The Chi Rho Fellowship is a group composed of students from any Christian denomination who are preparing for full-time Christian service.

The Fellowship strives to develop and maintain a personal relationship among its members in order to provide an opportunity for solving individual problems through discussion.

As an organization they learn more about all the Christian religions and share, at the same time, their own religious beliefs with each other.

Chi Rho endeavors to work with other organizations on the campus in an effort to foster a more Christian atmosphere.

The group cooperates in denominational projects and sends representatives to state and national conferences. In addition to promoting the weekly campus chapel programs, the M.S.M. sponsors the Christmas candlelight service, and has off-campus retreats. The organization's national magazine Motive specializes in art, literature and drama.

United Christian Fellowship

The purpose of the United Christian Fellowship is to provide an effective, unified Christian fellowship on the campus by encouraging high ideals of Christian life and society, by developing programs of service and worship, and by promoting closer co-operation between the churches of the community and the students of Morris Harvey College.

Each semester a social get-together is held to allow new members to become acquainted with the fellowship. Under the sponsorship of the Rev. William Albright, the group aids in the organization and programs of denominational clubs on campus. An ecumenical chapel service is held annually with participants from all faiths represented on campus.

The primary objective of the club is to stimulate the continuation of religious education by uniting members' beliefs and striving for a common goal.

Westminster Fellowship

The Westminster Fellowship, a Presbyterian organization, was founded on the Morris Harvey campus to provide opportunities for the Presbyterian students to discuss and gain a more complete understanding of the Presbyterian Church and its theology.

The I.M.A. is a social and service organization. It is fast growing and open to all male students who are independent and have completed twelve hours of credit at the College.

The activities of this organization include an annual Christmas party and other semi-formal and informal dances. It also extends to the A.A.Y. the opportunity for children in the community to attend functions at the College.

As the weekly student publication of Morris Harvey College, the Comet strives to fulfill the objectives outlined in its constitution. Its purposes are: to provide news of college activities; to provide journalistic training for students; to help in every way the promotion of the entire College programs; and to interpret the College to the community.

All full time students receive the Comet free through the Student Activity Fee. It is also circulated among the Board of Trustees and members of the Women Builders.

This year, the Comet sponsored a contest to name the best dressed coed for Glamour magazine. In addition, the Comet became the focal point for many controversial issues of the day.

To provide an extracurricular athletic program for college women and to sponsor an intramural program are the purposes of the Women's Athletic Association.

An annual camping trip, and "Meet the Majors" night are all events sponsored by the W.A.A.

In addition to these activities, the W.A.A. also sponsors an inter-collegiate basketball team, swimming and bowling parties, and a program where they attend athletic clinics at other institutions. Miss Mary Etta Green serves as faculty advisor.

Chess Club

The Chess Club, established in 1963 under the direction of Dr. Alex Darbes, is one of the newest organizations on campus.

Since 1964 members of this club have enjoyed remarkable success. Last year the Golden Eagles sported a final $6\frac{1}{2}$ and $1\frac{1}{2}$ record in the intercollegiate matches and captured the team championships in the First Annual West Virginia Intercollegiate Chess Tournament.

TRADITIONS

Duke President Douglas M. Knight and Dr. Buckalew

Inauguration of Marshall Buckalew

Academic splendor was arrayed in May 1965 when Marshall Buckalew was inaugurated as the Twentieth President of Morris Harvey College. Seniors, trustees, representatives of learned societies and delegates from colleges and universities formed the colorful procession which led the ceremonial exercises.

Duke University President Douglas M. Knight presented the inaugural address. At the luncheon Governor Hulett Smith, Mayor John Shanklin, trustees of the college and President Paul A. Miller of West Virginia University joined in extending their best wishes for a continued career of development by the college.

My first concern will be for the welfare of the individual student. Our future improvements will be decided on what will best meet the needs of students. The student is in greater danger of losing his individuality through numbers and automation than ever before. It is time for all of us to place the student on our campus in the proper perspective.

Marshall Buckalew

Christmas wouldn't be complete without the annual Morris Harvey Christmas Party. Each year the music department presents the program, featuring the Philharmonic Choir and String Ensemble in the A. W. Cox Reception Hall. This year the speakers included Dr. Emery and President Buckalew.

After the group was led in Christmas Carols, Santa himself made an appearance with his helpers, who had candy canes and chocolate Santas for everyone. Dave Baber closed the program with the traditional singing of "White Christmas."

May Day is an annual celebration at Morris Harvey, highlighted by the crowning of the May Queen and her court and the announcement of the winners of the May Day Sing. Each class selects two girls for the court, with the exception of the senior class which chooses four. An all class election determines which senior girl will be queen, which will be maid of honor, and which two will be in the court. Joyce Diana Stephenson was crowned 1965 May Queen by Sue Hill Warner, 1964 Queen.

The other important event is the competition for the May Day Sing trophies. Any organization on campus may participate. Last year the three fraternities, the Independent Men, and the three sororities and the Independent Women competed. Chosen as the winners were Alpha Xi Delta sorority and Theta Xi fraternity.

Golden Eagles Snatch

"Hey, you can't do that!"

As the team sat around the dressing room preceding their first game of the 1965-66 basketball season, all were thinking of the differences between last year's team and the one they were now sitting among.

One familiar face was gone—Coach Garland "Sonny" Moran traveled to West Virginia University to continue the hardcourt game. But this vacancy was filled by the capable Rich Meckfessel and a new team filled with experience.

The squad took the floor against Bluefield to begin one of their most outstanding seasons. The Eagles visited Marshall with an eye on an upset victory—and they did just that. By no means was it an easy victory as the Golden Eagles battled back to a one-point win over the Thundering Herd in a real thriller.

Next, MHC glided easily over Emory & Henry, Concord, Davis & Elkins and West Virginia State to raise their record to six wins and no losses.

Then Fairmont, last year's WVIAC Tournament Champs, had an eye on breaking MHC's winning streak—and did in a close, hard-fought battle.

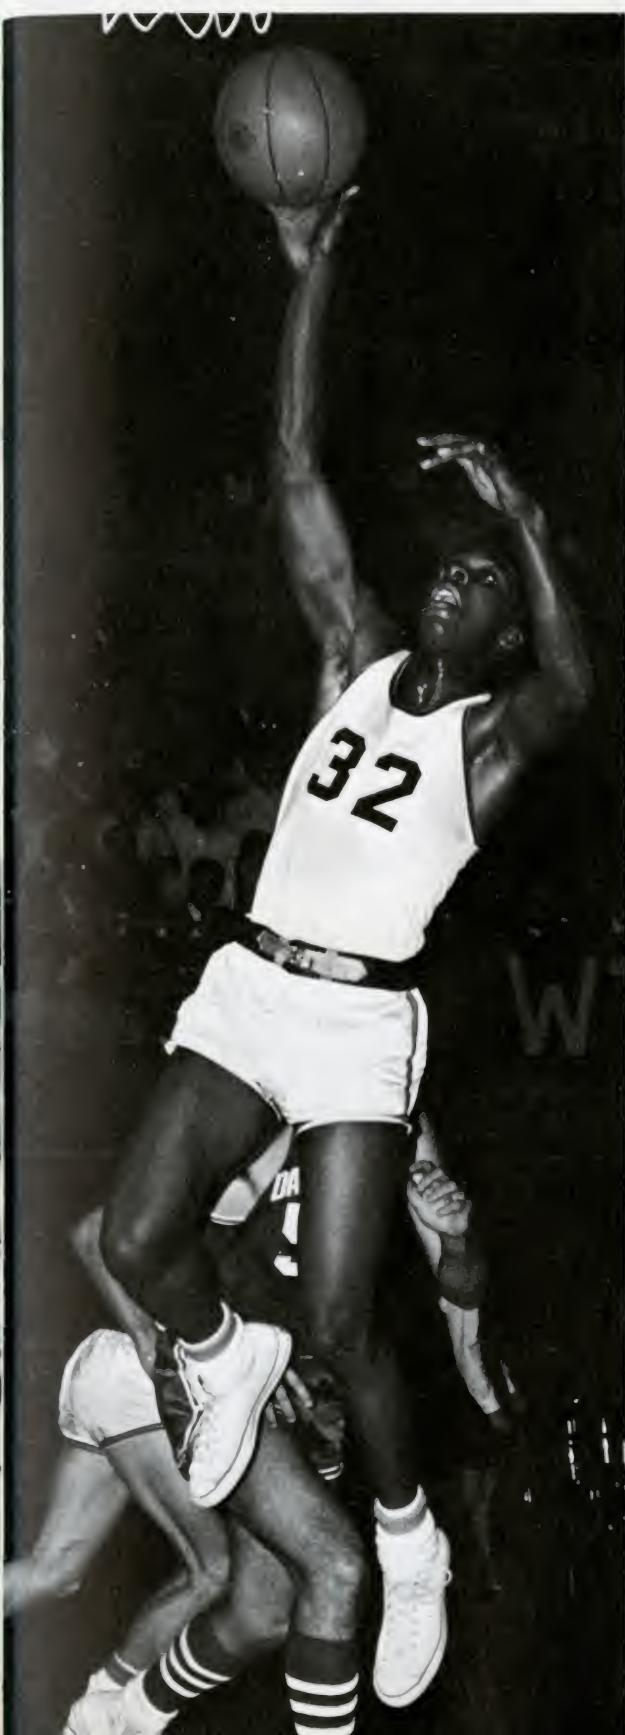

However, the Eagles bounced back to win the Fort Eustis Christmas Tournament in Virginia by downing Virginia State, Susquehanna, and Hamp-ton-Sydney.

"You can't be serious, Coach!"

Plybon for two.

W.V.I.A.C. Title . . .

Hayes tries to stop that bucket.

Null and Curry reach for tip-in.

On January 4 after beating arch-rival W. Va. Tech, the Maroon and Gold let non-conference Marietta squeeze by for a three point upset, leaving them with a ten and two record.

Morris Harvey's hoopsters romped past AldersonBroaddus and Glenville, before Marshall avenged an earlier loss, leaving the Eagles with a three point deficit as time ran out.

After a break for semester exams, the Golden Eagles did everything right as they slid past Fairmont. When the dust cleared, the score was 97-90 over-time in favor of the courageous boys of Charleston. It was a 100 per cent team effort all the way, and put the Eagles back on top in the State Conference. When the Big Squad invaded W. Va. State, they came out breaking an all-time record of most points scored in one game; the score 129-93.

On the road again, MHC showed some fatigue as they fell at the hands of Wesleyan by two points. This heart-breaking match dropped them to second place behind Fairmont in conference standings.

Gerald Martin proves that stars are born.

Curry with rebound, Plybon ready for fast break.

"Scratch a little harder, please"

A tough Hart drive for another of his speciality, the lay-up.

Depression was the mood of the players as they approached Wheeling, but it certainly didn't show on the court as the Golden Boys shot down Wheeling, Salem, Concord, and Beckley with ease.

Wesleyan descended upon the home court in Charleston with intentions of again knocking the Eagles from contention in the State Conference. However, the Eagles' eye was focused on the Bobcats and they couldn't do anything wrong as they clobbered Wesleyan 103-69.

With a tremendous team effort and the usual balanced scoring of all ten players, the Maroon and Gold stormed over Glenville in the final regular season contest 90-74.

Morris Harvey's triumph, coupled with Shepherd's 104-100 upset over Fairmont, gave the Golden Eagles the State College Conference Championship in their first season under Coach Rich Meckfessel and his assistant Jerry Moore. Morris Harvey ended with a 17-2 conference record, 22-4 over-all, good for a first place rating of 161.6. Fairmont's 17-2 conference record netted the Falcons 156.0 points and second place.

"That's a nasty hang nail you've got there!"

In their first tournament game, the Golden Eagles defeated the Wheeling squad by a score of 90-74. Roger Hart, again showing his tournament power, led the MHC scoring, followed by Gerald Martin and Bill Robinette. Next the Eagles turned away upset-minded Shepherd's bid in a hard fought 104-86 game.

Wesleyan apparently didn't read MHC's press clippings, for they proceeded to stop the Golden Eagles win streak at eight in the Championship game of the WVIAC Tournament. Despite a last minute surge by Morris Harvey, using their famous "full-court game press," the Bobcats managed to save the game in the closing seconds by a score of 84-86 and a NAIA playoff duel.

In Clarksburg, considered a neutral court, the Eagles fought off a desperate attempt by Wesleyan's Bobcats. They emerged the victors, 88-78, in the NAIA playoff berth for Kansas City and the National Championships. The Eagles held the lead the entire way in a fight-marred contest which was considered one of the most tense and thrilling of the entire campaign.

Since Co-Captain Roger Hart and Gerald Martin made the All-Tournament Team, Morris Harvey's high flying Golden Eagles show a great deal of promise for the 1966-67 season.

The spring of 1965 saw the Morris Harvey Netters finish another victorious season with a nine win—two loss record. As W.V.I.A.C. Champions, the team traveled to Kansas City to compete in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics' Tournament. Out of 52 colleges represented at the tournament, Morris Harvey placed sixth.

The most outstanding performer on the team this year was John Williams. As W.V.I.A.C. Champion, from 1963-1965 he has attained a remarkable collegiate record of 55 match wins and five losses. In addition, he has won a total of 550 games and lost only 190 and has also been ranked in the "top 15" of United States Amateur Tennis Players.

Under the supervision of Coach Tom Kinder, the intramural football program proved to be very successful this year. Due to renovation of the athletic field, games were held off-campus at the Watt Powell annex.

The championship game found the Alpha Sigs posted against the defending league champs, the Rinky Boys. A 14-0 score in favor of the Alpha Sigs ended the four year reign of the Rinky Boys as intramural champs. The Alpha Sig team remained unbeaten, untied, and unscored upon throughout the season of regular competition.
